Volunteer Canoe Tour Guides and Docents Needed For Delta Area State Parks

Brannan Island State Recreation Area – Volunteers, here is your opportunity to share your knowledge and appreciation of the Delta with others in a friendly, relaxing setting. The guided delta canoe tours offered in 2004 were so popular that the Delta Area State Parks are looking for more volunteer Canoe Tour Guides to help meet the demand.

Canoe Tour Guides receive training in canoeing, first aid, CPR, natural and cultural resource interpretation and how to lead a tour. This season's training sessions will be August 27 and 28 and September 3 and 4. After the training is completed, volunteers are expected to lead at least three tours per season. The autumn season will be September through November.

The State Park is also looking for volunteer docents to help the visitor's center lead walks and hikes, lead school groups programs and be involved in many other interpretive and educational functions.

The Interpretive and educational programs at the Delta Area State Parks are co-sponsored by California State Parks and the Delta Natural History Association, a non-profit organization.
